

SK46NE/110

Permian lower marl at site

| | | | | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Ault Hucknall ... SK46SE | N.S. 112 110/141 110/142. | (1) N.W. side of Norcliff Wood. 510 ft. above O.D. (2) Cade Well, Stainsby. Between 350 and 400 ft. above O.D. | 31 N.W. 31 N.W. | Magnesian Limestone Sandstone in Middle Coal Measures | Original supply of the monastery; now raised by rain to serve Batley Barn. Supplies the hamlet of Stainsby. Good supply, does not fail in dry seasons. |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

Published in Wells & Springs of Yorkshire p. 91

112/142 Visited and sited on Derby 31 NW/W. Westphalian B Water
Disused. Spring fills shallow dip well. Uncovered. July 1981
16 Rainy on main sc. 1. 4.
O.D. 318 Near SK 4543 6533 7.9.49

112/141. Visited & sited on Derby 31 NW/E. Permian lower Marl Water B.S.
O.D. + 480. Still supplies Batley Barn. no further inf. July 1981
5. 8.9.49
Need SK 4878 6388

There is some mystery about this latter site. The description given above does not fit it, and the Magnesian limestone is absent.

SK46/54

112

112/14

| | | | | | |
|-------------------|---------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|-----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Ault Hucknall ... | N.S. 112 112/141 | (1) N.W. side of Norcliff Wood. 510 ft. above O.D. | 31 N.W. | Magnesian Limestone | Original supply of the monastery; now raised by ramp to serve Batley Barn. |
| SK46/54 | 112/142 | (2) Cade Well, Stainsby. Between 350 and 400 ft. above O.D. | 31 N.W. | Sandstone in Middle Coal Measures | Supplies the hamlet of Stainsby. Good supply, does not fail in dry seasons. |

Published in Wells & Springs of Yorkshire p. 71

SK46/54

112/142. Visited and noted on Sunday 31 NW/1W Westphalian B.
Disused. Spring fills shallow dip well. Uncovered water primarily on main spring.
O.D. 318. SK 46NE 4843 6333 9.49. PM.

112/141. Visited & noted on Sunday 31 NW/E.
O.D. + 480. Still supplies Batley Barn for further info.
SK 46SE 4878 6388 89.49.

Permian, Lower M.A. at this site
D.P.
G. 1981.